

July 7, 2015

9 Things To Do in the Art World Before July 17

By Paul Laster

Halida Boughriet, Diner des anonymes, (2014). (Photo: Courtesy Richard Taittinger Gallery)

Opening: “Guess Who’s Coming to Dinner?” at Richard Taittinger Gallery

Organized by Hood Museum of Art curator Ugochukwu-Smooth C. Nzewi, “Guess Who’s Coming to Dinner?” introduces 12 contemporary African artists—including Halida Boughriet, Amalia Ramanankirahina, Gopal Dagnogo, and Beatrice Wanjiku Njorige—who are working in a variety of media and dealing with global concerns that transcend issues of national identity.

Richard Taittinger Gallery, 154 Ludlow St, New York, 6-9 p.m.