

Time Out

New York

July 12, 2016

Jorge Mayet, “Broken Landscape”

Nature is given a surreal lift in these sculptures by Mayet, a Cuban artist based in Spain. Three-dimensional landscape vignettes, and trees pulled from their roots, are suspended to create the illusion that they are floating in space. The results suggest memories that somehow elude the mind's ability to recapture them.