

Editors' Picks: 8 Things Not to Miss in the Virtual Art World This Week

Here's some art to see from the comfort of your own home.

Sarah Cascone, March 16, 2020

Each week, we search New York City for the most exciting, and thought-provoking, shows, screenings, and events. This week, in light of the global health crisis, we are highlighting events and exhibitions available digitally. See our picks from around the world below.

Through Sunday, April 26

Aki Kuroda, Space Magic (2019). Photo courtesy of Richard Taittinger Gallery.

7. “Aki Kuroda: Happy Boy in Manhattan” at Richard Taittinger

Aki Kuroda (1944–) has never had a solo show in New York before, but he’s renowned in his native Japan, where he became the youngest artist to get his own exhibition at Tokyo’s National Museum of Modern Art, in 1993. The curator, Yoyo Maeght has been friends with Kuroda for 40 years, since Kuroda’s first exhibition in France in 1980. The gallery is currently closed, but you can enjoy a virtual walk-through of the show from Eazel.

Time: 24/7

—Sarah Cascone

<https://news.artnet.com/art-world/editors-picks-march-16-2020-1798155>